Almost a third of young adults lack confidence in their reading

New research released today by children's literacy charity Beanstalk shows:

- younger adults are much less confident readers than older generations
- more than half of the younger adults surveyed say they would have benefitted from more one-to-one support to help them improve their reading skills

The research commissioned by Beanstalk shows that almost a third of 16-24 year olds don't feel confident when it comes to reading, compared to around one in five people aged 45 and over. It also shows that almost 40% of young adults surveyed said that they found learning to read to be a frustrating and difficult experience, compared to around 23% of over 55s.

Ginny Lunn, Beanstalk's CEO, says:

- "Our research shows that many young people lack confidence in their reading and wish that they had had more one-to-one reading support when they were a child.
- At Beanstalk, we know the difference consistent one-to-one support can make to help build a child's confidence in their reading.
- Our trained reading helpers provide vital one-to-one support to over 10,000 primary school children across the country every week.
- This Volunteers' Week, we are asking more people to sign up as Beanstalk reading helpers so that we can ensure more children grow up feeling confident about their reading skills."

Beanstalk is a national charity that recruits, trains and supports volunteers to provide one-to-one literacy support to children who struggle with their reading ability and confidence. Beanstalk's reading helpers each work with – on average – three children, seeing each child for two 30 minutes sessions a week, during term-time, for three whole terms. Together they read, play and talk, helping make reading fun and to build the child's confidence.

To sign up as a Beanstalk trained reading helper this Volunteers' Week, visit www.beanstalkcharity.org.uk or call 020 7729 4087.

At this mid point of the rugby league season, the open age are now fielding a casual third team for all who want to try the game. Whether inexperienced or in the off season for your football or rugby union seasons this side is made for you!

Their season began with a 30-30 draw with Littleborough, with further fixtures scheduled through until August.

The cricket season has been more stop-start than Del Boy's Robin Reliant thanks to the unpredictable weather.

With gloriously sunny spells interspersed with washout weekends, cricketers across the region have been caught in the middle - sun cream or rain hat?

Del Boy would probably say Prestwich have had a "lovely jubbly" start as they sit at the top of the newly-formed GMCL Premier League after nine games, with a 10-point cushion over nearest pursuers Egerton.

Not only do they remain unbeaten in the league, they have picked up additional bonus points for each victory to reward good batting and bowling performances.

Opening batsman James Wharmby has already notched up more than 500 runs, having struck a superb century in the first league victory gained at Glossop. But it came at a price.

His bat snapped in two as he hit the shot to bring up his ton, and somewhat sheepishly held up the splintered remains to acknowledge the landmark!

Professional Marty Walters has struck four half centuries and all-rounder Sam Holden is rarely out of the action, with three fifties and 24 wickets already to his name.

A knee injury to hard-hitting batsman Ryan Stanbury during the side's victory at Heywood was a setback but he has now returned to the batting ranks, along with Ali Raza who wasn't available for the start of this season. The signing of left arm quickie Mike Finan has also bolstered their bowling artillery.

That department has also been firing on all cylinders with captain Andy Bradley on 22 wickets for the season in all competitions, having notched his 1,100th wicket for the first team at Glossop.

Wilf Reeve with 17 wickets, Nathan Bailey 15, and Tom Scott 14, have all played their parts in the team's rousing start.

The only major blip was their defeat to Ribblesdale League leaders Clitheroe in the Lancashire Cup, with a rare below-par display.

The 2nd team are also flying high in division 3, with their most dramatic win coming in the cup against Unsworth.

Skipper Peter Lorenzini claimed the last wicket to win by just one run.

And the third team certainly know where the stumps are, after making it through the last two rounds of their cup competition courtesy of winning two bowl-outs. They now face Monton & Weaste in the last 16.

The inaugural Friday night Archway T20 competition saw Prestwich lose just one of their four games, namely a rain-affected defeat to Unsworth. The club's two home T20 games also raised money for Bury Hospice in honour of Sarah Taylor.

- A number of former England players are set to appear at The Heys on Friday August 5 when the club hosts a Greene King & Professional Cricketers' Association match.

More details are to be released soon.
